MISSOULA--

In the Northwestern Collegiate Women's Sports Association regional meet last weekend in Corvallis, Oregon, the University of Montana gymnastics team placed 10th with 114.42 points.

Oregon State University was first (135.7) followed by University of Oregon (129.95), Boise State University and University of Washington (tie-121.05), and Portland State University (119.95).

Senior Maureen Thomas tied for 16th in all-around in the preliminary competition on Friday with a score of 30.45.

None of the Grizzlies made it to finals which were held last Saturday.

Judy Carlson, a Montana junior, also gave a good performance for the Grizzlies. Carlson worked uneven parallel bars and vaulting.

"Maureen and Judy probably had their season's best," said Coach Sharon Dinkel. "The rest of the performances were a little disappointing," she added.
